The diagram illustrates the relationship between three printing zones. A large light gray rectangle represents the 'bleed area'. Inside this rectangle, a smaller white rectangle represents the 'safe zone'. The white rectangle is centered within the gray rectangle. The text 'OUTSIDE D' is centered within the white rectangle. To the right of the rectangles, three horizontal lines with labels point to the corresponding zones: the top line points to the gray area and is labeled 'bleed area', the middle line points to the white area and is labeled 'trim line', and the bottom line points to the gray area and is labeled 'safe zone'.
